

SALEM NEWS

To-morrow is court day.
Dr. O. L. Cooke, of Hollins Institute, was in town yesterday.

A. Kirschner has returned from a business trip to New York.

Mrs. A. H. Plecker has returned to Lynchburg for several weeks.

T. J. Shickel and D. B. Strouse were in Lynchburg yesterday on business.

Prof. S. S. and A. K. Handy, of Alleghany Institute, were in town yesterday.

Miss Jessie Morgan has returned after an extended visit to friends in Eastern Virginia.

Hon. Joseph Logan left yesterday for Union, W. Va., after a few days' visit among relatives and friends.

Col. B. H. Logan and Judge W. W. Moffett have returned from Richmond, where they went in the interest of a bill that is before the general assembly.

G. G. Grant has in his possession a bit of interesting antiquity in the shape of a Spanish coin. It is dated 1779, and bears the inscription: "Carolus III," "Dei Gratia."

Graded school "A" had very interesting exercises Friday evening. The question for debate was "Resolved, That Artificial Beauty is More Attractive to the Eye than Natural." The papers on "Bad Roads" and "The Colored Cemetery" were good and are deserving of comment.

The electric car ran off the track yesterday at 5 o'clock as it was making the turn coming up College avenue, and another car had to be sent up from Roanoke to take its place. After considerable work the car was placed on the track, but the tracks were so damaged that the car was not serviceable, and the car from Roanoke was ordered instead.

The children of the Episcopal Sunday-school gave a recitation on Friday night in the storeroom next to John Whitescarver, at which the members of the congregation were invited. Refreshments were served. Several young gentlemen of the college contributed to the pleasure of the evening by vocal music, and a most delightful time was enjoyed by all.

S. N. M. S. Entertainment.

The Southern Normal Music School gave a class exercise Friday evening to a number of invited guests. Songs, recitations, piano and guitar music and a dialogue formed the programme of the evening. The guitar music and recitation of Miss Holland, the song by Janis Sheppe, recitation by Miss Allie Lemon, piano solo by Miss Emma Ayres, song by Miss Mary Cannaday, recitation by Miss Claudine Kizer, and the vocal duet by Misses Saul and Johnson are deserving of special mention. Miss Horine, the directress of this school, deserves much credit for the excellent manner in which each piece was rendered.

Teachers' Institute.

The teachers' institute for the teachers of Roanoke county will begin Monday and remain in session for three days. All of the teachers of the county are expected to attend, and an interesting session is anticipated. From 9 to 11 a. m. the visiting teachers will visit the various rooms of the graded school and observe how the Salem scholars are taught. They will then assemble in session in the new school building where will be discussed the various phases and studies of school life. There will be two daily sessions, one at 11 a. m. and the other at night.

The institute for colored teachers will be held Thursday and Friday. On Saturday the colored teachers' association meets and the teachers of Roanoke city are invited to meet with them.

A Matter of Opinion.

A gentleman was greatly surprised and pleased the other day at the reply a lady gave to the question: "Do you plant Vick's seeds?" Her answer was: "I always plant Vick's seeds in the front yard, but we get cheap seeds in the back yard, which I know is a mistake."

It pays to plant good seeds, and we advise our friends who are thinking of doing anything in this line to send 10 cents for Vick's Floral Guide for 1896. This amount may be deducted from the first order. James Vick's Sons, Rochester, N. Y., are the pioneers in this line.

GALLAGHER THE FAVORITE.

Chicago's Shortstop Billiard Tournament and Its Famous Players.

The Chicago sporting enthusiasts who back their opinions with their money are confident that Thomas J. Gallagher proposes to "let her go" in the great short stop billiard tournament that opens Jan. 18. Gallagher is the favorite, and among his opponents are Edward McLaughlin, William H. Hatley, Frank Maggioni, Joseph W. Capron and George Sutton. Tom Gallagher, or Gray Tom's, first contest of notes was with Billy Cotton at eight inch ball line at St. Louis March 27, 1885. The game was 200 points up, and Tom lost by 800 to 687. On Nov. 23, the same year, he met Captain A. C. Anson in two games, afternoon and evening, the first for $200 and the second for $300, and won both. The next day he played a match with the captain at George Slosson's rooms for $800 a side, 14 inch lines, 400 points, and was again successful, 400 to 183. He then defeated John Matthews, 200 points, 14 inch lines, for $100 a side, by 200 to 137. In January, 1886, he took part in a tournament at Slosson's rooms, Chicago, having W. H. Hatley, John Matthews, John A. Thatcher and Albert Hoa as his opponents. Hatley, Matthews and Gallagher were tied at the finish, and in the play off they tied again, when they agreed to divide the prize money. Gallagher defeated Matthews again for $200, 14 inch lines, 300 to 79. His next opponent was Eugene F. Carter, whom he defeated by 500 to 381. He took part in a handicap tournament, 14 inch lines, March 15 to April 6, 1887, the games alternating between Slosson's rooms, Chicago, and the Superior Billiard hall, and tied with John A. Thatcher and John T. Moulds for second money. He tied with Cotton for second place in a tournament for second class experts at the Madison Street theater, Chicago, Nov. 26 to Dec. 8, 1888, Eugene Carter taking first money. The other contestants were Moulds, Maggioni, Ives, Hatley and Rhines. He has taken part in a number of contests during the last few years and has shown himself to be a thoroughly reliable, steady and consistent player.

A Terrible Scene.

Strohschneider, the famous aeronaut, astonished the natives of Stockerau, near Vienna, by carrying a young barbarian on his back along a tight rope 80 meters in length fixed to the church steeple. A few days later flaming posters appeared on the walls announcing that Strohschneider would effect a balloon ascent in the company of Herr Prammer, the popular landlord of the White Rose.

Notwithstanding the fact that the police had forbidden the landlord, who has a large family, from taking part in the performance, mine host entered the inclosure at the appointed time, to the no small delight of the assembled multitude. At a given signal the balloon rose in the air, Strohschneider and the landlord sitting on the trapeze beneath. Some of the spectators declare that the latter turned as pale as a sheet during his upward flight, though he did not fail to wave his hat to the crowd. After reaching a dizzy height the two balloonists were observed to quarrel and actually come to blows.

All at once the landlord plunged headlong into space. A shout of horror arose from the spectators, who ran to the spot where they expected to find Prammer lying with broken limbs. What was their astonishment at discovering, not a corpse, but a lay figure dressed in one of the landlord's suits. The mannikin was conveyed to Stockerau in triumph.—Herriedener Laubfrosch.

For Wheelmen.

A certain lawyer's face was a puzzle the other day as he pored over a pamphlet. Finally he broke out with:

"What the deuce they call this The Law Bulletin for I can't see."

His companion shouted with laughter.

"It's The L. A. W. Bulletin, you say!" he cried, and then he choked in his glee.—Worcester Gazette.

Useless Question.

"Dis ting's got to go t'rough," said one of the aldermen at the committee meeting. "Dere's money in it."

"Fur de city?" asked a member of the council.

And the only reply he got was the glassy stare.—Chicago Tribune.

Malicious.

A.—Tom must have had an awful cold when he became engaged.

B.—Why?

A.—Because when one has a cold one has no taste.—Fliegende Blatter.

SHE TEACHES BASKET BALL.

Miss Anderson, Physical Culture Director at Chicago University and Her Work.

Physical culture is compulsory at the University of Chicago, and the girl students are particularly fond of basket ball. Miss Kate Anderson, the present head of the gymnasium department for women, says that every woman should be able to run from a quarter to half a mile without fatigue, and many of the pretty girls under her charge are able to do so. Miss Anderson relates that after six months of gymnasium work the chests of 49 out of 50 girls showed a gain in girth of from one-half an inch to two inches and a half. The average gain was 1½ inches. Basket ball was one of the main contributors to this physical improvement.

Miss Anderson has for several years been recognized as one of the leaders in the department of physical culture. Prior to her removal to Chicago in 1894 she held positions at Golden Hill seminary, Bridgeport, Conn.; Hampton college, Kentucky, and in the Connecticut State Normal school. Immediately before accepting her present position she also took special instruction in gymnastics in Stockholm, Sweden. Miss Anderson is of slight build, but has a well knit frame. She is an ideal teacher in her chosen profession, has the unbounded confidence of her pupils and exercises strict discipline over her charges. She is a firm believer in the axiom that to have a sound mind requires a sound body, and she is always willing to prove the truth to any one skeptical on the subject.

THE WHEELING WORLD.

E. C. Bald now weighs 180 pounds.

Harry Tyler, the professional record breaking racing man, announces that he has decided to retire permanently from the track.

During President Willson's administration the L. A. W. has paid up $3,000 of debt, and at the time of the national assembly in February will be $2,000 to the good.

Charley Murphy, who has been suspended by the L. A. W., has engaged C. S. Luscomb to present his case to the national assembly. Luscomb is ex-president of the L. A. W.

The medal offered by the Century club of America for the club making the greatest number of runs has been won by the Century wheelmen of Maryland, who have ridden in 203 century runs.

Fred Titus is in earnest about going to France. He hopes to have his case reopened at the L. A. W. national assembly, but falling in that he will pack his grip and try his luck among the French professionals.

All Out.

"I understand that you have relics of the war for sale, my little man," said the northern tourist to the towhead. "We did have," replied the boy, "but they done bought us out, and the sword daddy buried last week won't get rusted 'fore summer."—Atlanta Constitution.

Drawing the Line.

The most inquisitive persons often affect indifference regarding the affairs of others and flatter themselves that they are keeping their curiosity well in hand at the very time that they are giving full rein to it. Aunt Jane Jasper belonged to this class. It was her boast that she had "all she could do to tend to her own business without meddling with the affairs of other folks," and that she "never bothered her head about things that did not concern her."

She was one day telling about a conversation she had "struck up" with a woman sitting beside her on a street car.

"She was a real nice appearing woman," said Aunt Jane, "and I thought we might as well be talkin' together as settin' there mum and glum. So I spoke to her, and she answered back real pleasant, and we talked for three miles."

"I asked her name, and where she lived, and if she was married, and what her husband did, and how many children she had, and I found out all about a family trouble that was worryin' her a good deal."

"She was tryin' to break her mother's will, and she wasn't on speakin' terms with her own brothers and sisters, and her husband and her didn't get along very well together."

"She had on a beautiful diamond ring that she told me cost $200, and she'd an elegant black silk that cost $3 a yard, for I asked her the price of it."

"Did you ask her where she had it made?" asked Aunt Jane's listener, whereupon the old lady bridled visibly and said sharply:

"Why, of course, I didn't! Did you s'pose I'd be that inquisitive?"—Youth's Companion.
